It's been a long time coming for two members of the Brockville Braves. Brockville captain Jason Hawes and assistant Doug Andress received league-wide recognition at the Central Junior `A' Hockey League awards banguet in Ottawa Saturday.

Hawes, a six-year veteran from Perth, was named outstanding graduate and also won the league award for sportsmanship and ability. He was also picked as first-team all-star centre to boot. Andress, in his fifth season with the Braves, was a near-unanimous choice as best defenceman and joined his only rival for the award, Kanata's Benoit Cassan, on the first-team defence. "I was kind of hoping I'd win. I knew it was between me and Cassan," said Andress. "I was pretty happy. The boys (Braves) have been bugging me about it," said the 19-year-old from Iroquois Falls.

Andress and Cassan each scored 70 points this season with Andress potting 24 goals to 14 for Cassan. Andress is also a physically dominant player and that's probably why even Kanata coach Archie Mulligan reportedly gave his vote to the Brockville player.

"That was a goal of mine. At the beginning of the year I was just hoping for 60 points and I did 10 better than that," he said.

Hawes, who finished second in league scoring with 102 points and has been a dominant player in the league for four seasons, wasn't expecting the triple honours.

"I was just happy to win. I've never won awards in my career. I'm just happy to go out (graduate) with them," he said.

"I've had great linemates this year with (Bill) Minkhorst and Fergie (Chris Ferguson) and every award takes 20 guys to win. I was just surprised and happy.

"But there's only one award that I really want and it was sitting there, the Subway Cup (for playoff champions). We'll do whatever it takes to win," Hawes said.

Minkhorst and Dan Dupuis from Brockville were named second all-star team wingers. Guy Come was Brockville's winner of the Subway three-star award.

Elsewhere, Smiths Falls Bears' goalie Dwight Cormier won the league award for best individual goals against average. Cormier shared his team's Subway three-star award with leading scorer Jackson Wilson.

Hawes has eye on Braves' scoring marks

Brockville Recorder & Times

Milestones are waiting to fall like dominoes for Brockville Braves co-captain Jason Hawes.

One more point and the CJHL scoring leader moves past Jeff Carter into fifth place on Brockville's all-time scoring list with 231. Four more assists and he ties career leader Darren Burns at 173. Five more points and he reaches the 100-point plateau for the first time.

With just four games remaining and individual accomplishments on the back-burner as the Braves prepare to defend their playoff crown, Hawes doesn't want to make a big deal of his personal accomplishments. But he knows the records await him if he closes the schedule at his usual rate of nearly two points a game.

"One hundred points is in the back of my mind but we've got four games to play," said the 20-year-old Perth native who's dressed for all 50 games by Brockville this season.

"It was kind of my goal this year to get 100 points and if a scholarship came out of it, great. If not, it's a good accomplishment. "The points haven't been coming for me the last couple of weeks. Early in the year I was having some four and five-point games. But it's a long schedule and to be able to play all the games, I'm pretty fortunate," he said.

Hawes knows that all too well. He appeared on his way to 100 points last year before he lost a dozen games to injuries and finished with 80 in 44 games. Hawes, who was leading the league in scoring before the injury, watched teammate Matt Poapst shoot past to win the CJHL crown with 101 points, breaching the 100-point plateau in Brockville's final game.

"I know what Pauper was going through last year," said Hawes, who is within reach of catching Poapst in fourth place on the all-time team scoring list (237 points to 230).

Hawes may have to rely on linemates Bill Minkhorst and Chris Ferguson a little more than usual when the Braves entertain the Cumberland Grads at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Centre tonight. The flu has worked itself through most of the rest of the team and now it has Hawes feeling well below 100 per cent.

Hawes said the virus is partially to blame for Brockville's uneven fortunes in recent weeks. But he feels the team has the depth and experience to finish strongly and take a run at the Hawkesbury Hawks who hold down first place overall by a mere one point.

Should Brockville overhaul the Hawks, their first-round playoff opponent would be the Pembroke Lumber Kings, who the Braves play twice before the schedule closes.

"We'll get it going and we'll be alright. Hopefully we'll do well in the playoffs and bring another championship to the city."

Coach Wilf Johnston likes the mix.

A combination of savvy veterans and hungry rookies is well positioned to lead the Brockville Braves into the 1998-99 Central Junior A Hockey League. Whether they can match up with last season's franchise-best performance remains to be seen, but they're surely to be contenders.

Sophomore Jeff Murphy will get the call to play goal against the Colts with four-year veteran Kevin Peever slated to start Friday's home opener at 8 p.m. against the Hwy. 29 rival Smiths Falls Bears.

All hands appear healthy except veteran defenceman Sheldon McCarthy whose lower back pain has been a concern most of training camp. But Rob Brown, Dave Reid and Doug Andress provide seven years experience on the blueline while Steve Kant and Jay Fennessey both have Jr. A exposure. Rookie Dan Lefave, 16, of Kingston is the seventh defenceman.

Veteran forwards Jason Hawes, Guy Come, Bill Minkhorst and Dan Dupuis, with a combined 10-years CJHL experience between them, should all figure among the league scoring leaders. Sophomores Dusty Kingston and Trevor Choffe should have breakthrough seasons and much is expected from Chris Ferguson and A.J. Howe, Jr. B affiliates last year who made the transition to Jr. A when called upon.

The biggest disappointment going into the season is the apparent loss of 14-year-old Jeff Seymour. The bantam-aged rookie from Kingston was an offensive buzzsaw who made an increasingly good impression throughout camp despite his age.

Johnston said the Braves had every intention of signing Seymour but were told to back off because of his age and import status by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. Johnston said the team will appeal the decision and point out Seymour became a free agent for the junior ranks when he was cut by the Kingston Voyageurs before joining Brockville's camp.

Another Kingston product, Mike Murray, joins Morrisburg area's Aaron Weegar as rookie forwards. Sophmore Tony McLaughlin is expected to return from tryouts with the OHL's Kingston Frontenacs today and Pembroke's Joel Patterson, acquired in a pre-draft trade last spring, is in town and waiting to recover from a shoulder injury before donning a uniform.

Johnston said he's also ready to offer a spot to Matt Reynolds of Athens should he not find a spot with Owen Sound in the OHL.

Affiliates are planned for a number of players expected to play Jr. B this year. Johnston would like to card Brockville Tikis second-year defenceman Nathan VanderBaaren and forward Justin Ellis, bantam graduates Adam Andrecyk and James Thomas, and South Grenville Jr. B forward Dallas Wood.

Reid signs his deal By: Nick Gardiner Brockville Recorder & Times Posted November 24,1998

David Reid and the Brockville Braves enjoyed their trip to Canton, N.Y., Saturday to watch a Division I U.S. college hockey game.

Next year Reid will be on the inside looking out.

The 19-year-old defenceman is the second Brockville Braves player in two years to receive a full four-year hockey scholarship from Clarkson University in nearby Potsdam. Reid follows winger Matt Poapst who joined the college this fall after captaining the Braves to their second Central Junior A Hockey League crown last spring and their first Frederick Page Cup as Eastern Canadian Champions.

Now in his fifth year patrolling Brockville's blueline, Reid was an integral part of the team's best-ever season. After three sometimes uneven seasons, Reid blossomed under a new regime last year. Part of Brockville's big four of veteran blueliners with puck-carrying responsibilities, Reid saw his points totals creep up near season's end and added nine points in 13 games during the league playoffs.

He's picked up this fall where he left off and currently stands third in league scoring by defencemen with 24 points (seven goals, 17 assists), already a personal high for one season. Teammate Doug Andress, like Reid a defenceman for Brockville since he was 15, leads the league with 32 points (13 goals, 19 assists) followed by Kanata's Benoit

"It sort of turned around for me last season. (But) it didn't happen overnight. I've been here five years so I guess it's due," said Reid, who credited sophomore head coach Wilf Johnston for his improvement.

"Wilf's been pretty good with me. He has confidence in me and that's helped a lot," he said.

Long-touted as a defenceman with plenty of potential, Reid is well on his way to establishing a team record for longevity. Entering this season with 169 games played in a Brockville uniform, Reid is now up to 192, just 16 shy of the team's all-time mark of 208 games played in the late '80s by Darren Burns, like Reid a Brockville native. Barring injury, he should exceed that mark early in 1999.

'It'd be nice. I guess it's a milestone. It's like an added bonus. It's not something I set out to do but it's something that's maybe going to happen," said the son of Peter and Andress, with 179 games played, is close behind. Reid figures his fellow defenceman, like several teammates, are capable of playing U.S. college hockey and he expects more scholarships to follow.

"It will come," he said. "As long as you work hard for the team things will happen individually."

A part-time student at Brockville's St. Lawrence College where he takes marketing and computer programming, Reid will enter business administration studies at Clarkson

He took his U.S. college entrance tests (SATs) three years ago and scored a little better than average. He planned to write them again this year "until everything happened." Discussions with Clarkson began slowly but heated up before the first college signing deadline which passed last weekend. He was also wooed by Niagara of Buffalo, the Division II U.S. champions who moved up to Division I this fall.

But Clarkson's business program was more to his liking and the hockey program and facilities are considered second to none. The team has struggled so far this season and Saturday's game ended in a 3-1 loss to rival St. Lawrence University of Canton.

Two former Braves named Poapst played in that game as Matt's older brother John, who played three seasons in Brockville until 1995, scored twice for the winning Saints. Reid said getting the scholarship out of the way early will allow him to relax more during his final CJHL season. "It makes it easier. It takes all the pressure off," he said.

All-star Andress a big hit By: Nick Gardiner Brockville Recorder & Times Posted January 8,1999

Doug Andress is driving to become the first Brockville Brave named best defenceman in the CJHL since John Poapst in 1994.

Andress, who matches the league's second best offensive totals for a blueliner with a propensity for delivering crushing hits, has developed into the total package predicted by Brockville officials when he first arrived as a 16-year-old four seasons ago.

Now 19, the Iroquois Falls native is one of eight Braves named to the Yzerman Division Team for Saturday's all-star game at 8 p.m. in Nepean.

Andress, who's making his second straight all-star appearance, and his Brockville teammates will have their fill of Nepean by the end of the weekend. The Raiders visit the Braves at 8 o'clock in the Memorial Centre tonight and have a rematch scheduled Sunday in Nepean at 7 p.m.

Saturday's game is one to enjoy, Andress said, while the two league games are far more important to the state of the Braves.
"The all-star game, that's just for fun, more or less. But Friday and Sunday are important games. Every game from here on in is a pretty big game because we want to stay in first overall," he said.

Andress has treated every game this season like a big one. His level of consistency has been a model admired by teammates, fans, league officials and, of course, coaches Wilf Johnston and Alex Armstrong.

"Last year he had a great year and he's following up with another this year," Johnston said.

"He's been consistent. Instead of playing a great shift and then a not-so-great shift, every shift now is a good one."

Andress said it's a matter of believing in his abilities.

"I have more confidence carrying the puck and going into the other team's zone. I can join the rush and get back in time (to cover on defence).
"I like to have a couple of big hits to start the game and then get into the offence later. The hits are part of my role. They seem to lift the team," he said.

With injuries depleting Brockville's blueline, Andress and David Reid have been the mainstays on the defence.

Andress has a league-high 16 goals for a defenceman with 41 points, second by one point to Kanata's Benoit Cassan, who has four goals. Reid, a fellow all-star who's already signed a scholarship to play at St. Lawrence University in Canton, N.Y. next year, is third in scoring among defenceman with 33 points and 10 goals.

Andress, whose marks may preclude a university scholarship, has drawn considerable interest from minor pro leagues who admire his six-foot, two-inch, 200-pound frame, his toughness and offensive abilities.

Battle of giants begins in Hawkesbury tonight

By Ron Smith

Brockville Recorder & Times

Posted April 8,1999

Before the playoffs started, the Brockville Braves wanted to meet the Hawkesbury Hawks in the Central Junior `A' Hockey League championships. They have their wish.

The Braves will travel to Hawkesbury tonight to begin the best-of-seven final series at 7:30, with game two back in Brockville on Friday night at 7:30.

While the Hawks have been resting up for six days and have only played nine playoff games, the Braves are coming off two tough seven-game series, playing their best hockey in the past three games against the Kanata Valley Lasers.

If the Braves perform as they did in their final two home games against Kanata, banged up or not, they're going to have a strong chance to topple the well-rested Hawks. The Braves just seem to get up mentally and physically to play the Hawks.

After losing the first two games of the regular season series to Hawkesbury, the Braves bounced back to win the next four straight. The Hawks outscored Brockville 29-28 in that series after winning the first game 10-1.

Hawkesbury finished with a record of 40-11-3 in the regular season, while the Braves were 39-11-4.

The finalists match up well and it's been a good rivalry.

Rookie Chris Ferguson is the leading scorer in the playoffs for the Braves. He has nine goals and 16 points in 14 games, tied for third among league playoff scorers.

Ferguson has been a key force in the playoffs. He supplies strength and toughness along with an ability around the net that works well with Bill Minkhorst and Jason Hawes.

Hawes, Minkhorst and Dan Dupuis are tied for fifth in playoff scoring with 15 points each. Hawes stepped up his play in the last three games against Kanata, a big reason the team advanced past Kanata.

There has been a large cast of playoff stars for the Braves, including defencemen Andrew Dickson and Doug Andress, goalie Kevin Peever, forwards Ryan Seymour and Guy

The Hawks' big man is little centre Matt Quellette, the league's scoring champ, who has eight goals and 17 points in nine playoff games.

Wingers Miguel Lafleche and Pascal Daze have been offensive leaders in the playoffs with Lafleche scoring seven times among 14 points, while Daze has 11 assists among his 14 points.

Former Brave Derek McKlusky has been the only goaltender to see action for the Hawks in the playoffs and he's been sharp. McKlusky leads the Canadian Junior `A' Hockey League with a 1.89 goals-against average with three shutouts and an 8-1 record in the playoffs. The Braves offered a fan bus to Hawkesbury for tonight's game could not attact enough interest. Officials say they will try again, however, with an announcement on Friday night for the Sunday evening game in Hawkesbury.
